

South Australian Emergency Services Sector Strategic Framework

Sector structure

- The Emergency Services Sector (ESS) consists of three operational public facing Emergency Service Organisations (CFS, MFS and SES) and a sector-wide support agency (SAFECOM)
- Funding for the ESS is provided from the CESF with some additional funding coming through grants and supplementary income being generated by ESO's. Funding is constrained in that the ESL is the sole government source of funding with the levy rate being determined by the Treasurer as is the allocation of funding to each ESO
- SAFECOM will develop and maintain a strategic and policy framework across the ESS
- Volunteers comprise the major component of the ESS workforce

Sector core principles

- Commitment to achieving sector harmonisation, alignment and modernisation to maximise public value in terms of effectiveness and efficiency in meeting community expectations
- Strategic planning that incorporates the National Principles and Five priorities articulated in the "Strategic Directions" document
- Adoption (where possible) of agreed standards to maintain national interoperability
- Community safety models based on the principles of Prevention, Preparedness, Response and Recovery (PPRR) to deliver a comprehensive approach to risk management
- Increased emphasis on Prevention and Preparedness
- Ongoing commitment to building community resilience
- Evidence based strategic decisionmaking and prioritisation of better community outcomes. Evidence will include use of data, community consultation, decision-making tools, inquiry recommendations and other evaluations
- "Change ready" and keen to embrace continuous improvement
- Recognition that our strength is our people. Our plans place appropriate emphasis on the wellbeing of our staff and volunteers, their career development, their recognition and the observance of high ethical standards
- Neither gender nor diversity will be a barrier to employment or career progression within the ESS

Sector roles

- To support the vision of "we are safe in our homes, community and at work" contained within the South Australian Strategic Plan
- To protect life, property and environmental assets while ensuring the safety, health and wellbeing of our workforce
- To meet the statutory obligations and responsibilities under the FES Act 2005, EM Act 2004 and other applicable Acts and regulations
- To fulfil obligations as a Hazard Leader, Control Agency or Support Agency defined within the State Emergency Management Plan
- Each ESS agency (incl SAFECOM) will develop, maintain and implement agency specific strategic and business plans
- SAFECOM will provide functional support to each ESO
- ESOs will provide its own frontline support
